President's Message

Ah, the sweet smell of success. Really? Do I smell it? It's a bit of a ridiculous notion, but in truth, success can be described in many, many ways. Does success have a sound? Does it have a definitive value? Is it, for example, 10 pounds? $10,000? Or 10 really good friends?

Okay, so now I have you thinking in the right direction. Yes, success is a many splendid thing. Funny, though — our personal success is different than the success we measure in others.

Certainly we cannot ascribe our version of success to everyone we meet. Even with people we work shoulder-to-shoulder with, in a like position and for the same company, we measure accomplishment differently. Our personal success is ours to define because it is precisely that: personal.

Traditional measures of success are easy to name: money, fame, power, and prestige readily come to mind. Things we buy are sometimes used to symbolize success, so that others can see it. We buy ourselves things that may make us feel more successful, like a more expensive anything — watch, car, sunglasses. Do we buy the fancier versions to show others our success, or because we genuinely enjoy them more? I think some of each is the truth.

Beyond the tangible, what gives us the feeling of success? I suspect many of us enjoy the recognition we receive from others. This is one of the reasons I have enjoyed being a member of the board for NEW. Seeing the reactions of our winners of the Executive Woman of the Year (EWOTY) event is uplifting, joyful and fulfilling. The winners themselves are obviously elated — and feel successful themselves. Oh, what a feeling!

If you want to experience the shared feeling of joy, make sure you reserve your seat for EWOTY. Better yet, share the experience by inviting others to enjoy the festivities with us. We are successful ourselves, and surround ourselves with successful others. Never mind the accoutrements, let's just bask in the moment and share the sweet smell of success.

—Samantha Bond, President

EWOTY on the Horizon

Mark your calendars — NEW's annual Exceptional Woman of the Year luncheon will take place on Tuesday, March 11.

During 2013 we raised $4000 to present as scholarships for deserving women who are continuing their education and already having an impact on the community.

Please help us kick-start our 2014 scholarship fund by inviting sponsors to support our effort. Sponsor applications are available at our website, or recommendations can be made to EWOTY chair Kristi Campbell.

Locally, Carrie was recently nominated as Tampa Bay Business Journal's 2013 Business Woman of the Year. Prior to founding ROKOSZ Studios, Carrie spent 13 years broadcasting as "Carrie Kirkland" on Tampa area radio stations WRBQ, Q105's "The Mason Dixon Morning Show," WMTX Mix 100.7 host of "Into the Night with Carrie Kirkland," WAKS, WFLA, WFLZ, and others.

Carrie will be sharing her knowledge and experience on how businesses can actively seeking ways to grow their business through online marketing activities and deliver a substantial ROI. Whether you're new to web video marketing or have experience working with video producers, you'll discover that producing high quality, professional, web video content for your business does not have to be expensive or difficult.

Scholarship Funds

50/50 Fundraiser

This luncheon fundraiser helps raise money we award annually to financially and academically deserving women in the Tampa Bay area. Fifty percent of money raised each month goes to scholarship and 50% goes to the winning ticket holder.

In January, symmetry prevailed: the 50/50 Fundraiser raised $50.
